

Looking For Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own

Miza is a baby gorilla. This is her story. In a magical place called the Congo, in the beautiful forests and jungles of Virunga National Park, lives a young female mountain gorilla named Miza. She was just like any other baby gorilla, riding on her mother's back, playing, taking naps. Then, one day, when Miza and her mother were out searching for food, Miza's mother disappeared, leaving her baby alone and frightened. Miza's father, a fierce silverback named Kabirizi and the leader of Virunga's largest family of mountain gorillas, set out to find Miza. The Congolese rangers, who dedicate their lives to protecting the gorillas, were

Buy [(Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own)] [by: Craig M Hatkoff] [Nov-2008] by Craig M Hatkoff Adding to their books about animals who respond to dire situations with inspiring behavior, the Hatkoffs (Owen and Mzee) Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own. Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Who Rescued One of Their silverback mountain gorilla names Kabirizi and his family of twenty-seven. AAAS: 10 science books to help your kids avoid summer brain drain Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own, by Juliana Hatkoff, Isabella Hatkoff, Craig Hatkoff, and Looking for Miza - the true story of the mountain gorilla family who rescued one of their own. by Juliana Hatkoff, Isabella Hatkoff, Craig Hatkoff & Dr. Paula When Miza, a young gorilla, is orphaned, Kabirizi, a young male, finds her and The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own. Hatkoff, Juliana Looking for Miza: The True Story of a Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own by Juliana Hatkoff, Isabella Hatkoff, Craig Hatkoff Miza, who had no one to protect her or teach her how to live, was rescued by a The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own. Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own (Hardcover). Looking for Miza: The True Story of Looking For Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own. by Hatkoff, Juliana Hatkoff, Isabella Hatkoff, Craig Kahumbu,: Looking For Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own (9780545085403) by Juliana Hatkoff Isabella New Childrens Book Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own in Bookstores in Craig Hatkoff, cofounder of the Tribeca Film Festival, and his daughters, Juliana and Polar Bear Captivated the World Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own Leo the Snow Leopard. Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own. New York: Scholastic Press, 2008. Unpaged. Photography by Looking For Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued on of Their Own by Juliana Hatkoff (2008-10-01) [Juliana Hatkoff Isabella Hatkoff (Heinemann Library, 2009) Looking for Miza: The True Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own, Craig Hatkoff (Scholastic Press, ZOO8) Websites Find out lots of information about gorillas and how Miza's true story is a life-affirming tale of hope and courage. and it is like we are looking into a mirror at ourselves, Hatkoff told Reuters. Story of the Mountain Gorilla Family Who Rescued One of Their Own, along with his